Lewisburg Performer to Appear at Eagle Grange, December 1st

KJ Reimensnyder-Wagner is a nationally known singer-song writer-motivational speaker-coffee hour entertainer and we are thrilled she is coming to our Holiday Potluck Dinner this night. With her infectious enthusiasm, she is sure to enliven our gathering that begins at 6 p.m.

Combining inspiring words and music, KJ's topic for the evening Challenges to Opportunities: Creative Ways Toward the Future is especially appropriate as we honor long-time Grange members for their years of service. She promises to challenge all to look forward to a new and brighter tomorrow, in the Grange and in our lives. She promises to share a special song about the Grange she wrote a few years ago.

We are asking those planning to attend to make a reservation with Secretary Jenn Nauss (e-mail jnauss89@gmail.com; phone 717-512-1261) by November 27th to help with planning for food and seating. This information is also needed to provide notification in the event that a postponement becomes necessary because of inclement weather or COVID restrictions on group gatherings

COVID safe protocols will be observed.

Everyone is asked to wear a face mask except while eating and to use the disposable plastic film gloves provided while handling serving utensils in the buffet line.

Meat (sauerbraten beef & fried chicken), beverage and place settings will be supplied by the Grange and those attending are invited to bring a favorite casserole, salad or dessert to share. Colorfully decorated tables celebrating the December holidays of Hanukkah and Christmas will be spaced in a socially distanced manner. Individual favors will be given to each attendee and several especially lucky persons will go home with a door prize. The Social Committee in charge of arrangements is Jennifer Nauss and Doug Bonsall.

See a listing elsewhere in this newsletter that recognizes all the members of Eagle and Delaware Granges that will be honored for their years of continuous membership at this very special event.

New Stove Installed

At the beginning of November the much needed new stove was installed in the Grange kitchen. It got its first big work-out for the Nov. 14th take-out turkey dinner and it worked like a charm. The total cost, including installation and gas hook-up/inspection, was just over $1,800 and provides us with 6 large burners and a full size commercial oven. What an improvement!

Another tidbit of good news is that president David Troutman was able to sell the old stove for $200. And to think some of us thought this relic was only a piece of scrap metal!

Previously approved and the next scheduled property improvements are:

- Painting of the stairwell and second floor ante room area (currently underway)
- Upgrading of dining room lighting fixtures to energy efficient LED bulbs
- Installation of an outdoor lighted sign in the lawn alongside Route 15. This sign will help to advertise events taking place at Eagle Grange and eliminate the cost of purchasing a banner for each event.

Eagle Grange will continue to search for grants that can help fund other long-term major improvements to our facilities. We must finalize what those projects will be and determine a priority as we seek funding from outside sources.

The State Grange generously shares at no charge regalia, implements and related items from closed Granges with any active Grange needing them. Eagle Grange has recently received a new altar rug and a complete set of handmade satin-lined officer station scarves. The one for the altar has been re-worked with the name Eagle Grange No. 1 embroidered on it, thanks to the efforts of Sister Hazel Ruff from York County (right) shown here with Eagle Secretary Jenn Nauss.

Similarly, the Lycoming Pomona Grange and Canusarago Grange have each received a set of officers' sashes to replace the well worn ones previously being used by those groups.

On the Agenda for Dec. 1st Meeting

Most business will be dispensed with for this holiday dinner meeting but we do need to determine if the Grange will subsidize part of the cost for each member attending the 4/17/2020 State Grange anniversary kick-off luncheon at the Country Cupboard, Lewisburg. As the first Grange in the state, Eagle members will have an important part in the program at this luncheon to spread the Grange light as it happened 150 years ago.

Welcome New Member

Mr. Philip Vonada of South Williamsport is Eagle's newest affiliate member. Phil is originally from Centre County where he is a member of Penns Valley Grange #158 and has recently been appointed PA State Grange Junior Director. He brings with him much talent as a performer and general manager of the Williamsport Community Theater League.

Grange Recipe Featured in Local Newspaper to Promote Dinner

Jenn Nauss and Doug Bonsall shared a recipe for pumpkin pie and this picture in an article featured in the Muncy Luminary newspaper. An inquiry made to Doug for historical information from newspaper reporter Carol Shetler about the demolition of the former Captain John Brady Grange Hall in Muncy Twp. led to a discussion about favorite Thanksgiving foods and the request to share the pie recipe with readers.

Hosts/Hostesses for Grange Meetings
