Blue Jacket Scholarships to be Given on Feb. 2nd to Five Milton FFA Students

Building upon years of public education support and advocacy for rural issues, Eagle Grange is pleased to announce a new partnership recognizing local youth. Nearby Milton Area High School has an active FFA vocational agriculture program involving many students, five of whom will be receiving Blue Jacket Scholarships at the next Grange meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 2nd beginning at 6:30 p.m. in the Grange Hall. Face masks are required and social distancing will be observed.

The privilege to wear the distinctive blue FFA jacket is a much sought after goal. Realizing that many students and their families may need the assistance to obtain the jacket, Pennsylvania FFA Alumni Association some years ago initiated the Blue Jacket Scholarships. Students who apply for a jacket scholarship must explain their interest in agricultural education, define one goal they hope to achieve throughout their FFA career and identify what wearing the FFA jacket means to them. In recent years thanks to support from individuals and organizations like the Grange, more than 300 jacket scholarships have been provided annually across PA.

Founder of the Blue Jacket program, teacher Krista Pontius (right) will speak at the Feb. 2nd meeting on the goals of awarding these annual scholarships. Mrs. Pontius is the FFA Advisor at Greenwood High School in Millerstown and an active Grange member/officer in Perry County. A graduate of Pennsylvania State University College of Agriculture, she was recently named one of three 2020 National Teach Ag Champions by the National Association of Agricultural Educators.

ZOOM Meeting Connection Offered Again

The last Grange meeting held in January was a hybrid gathering with some attending in-person at the Grange Hall and others logged in by ZOOM. It worked well and much discussion took place during the program to plan 150th anniversary events. The next meeting on February 2 will also offer a ZOOM connection for those who prefer to participate remotely from the comfort of their home. You may join anytime after 6:15 p.m. either by phone or by computer.

Building Improvements Continue to Progress

Neither the COVID-19 pandemic nor winter weather has slowed the on-going work to improve the facility usefulness and physical appearance Eagle Grange Hall. Overwhelmingly, rave reviews have been heard from members and visitors alike. The improvements have enabled the Grange to increase its activities and are generating increased rental usage of the property.

A number of faithful members have been giving many hours of volunteer labor to make this possible. At the head of the list is president David Troutman (shown below) doing everything from routine clean-up, painting and repairs. A motion formally commending and thanking David for his leadership was adopted at the last meeting.

A very welcome surprise came recently when an anonymous donor came forward to underwrite the $2,000 cost of a new commercial refrigerator. The new unit has 35 cubic feet of storage space, more than twice that of the former home refrigerator previously in use. Also purchased was a small freezer; both arrived in late December.

Top: Joann Murray and David Troutman cleaned and stocked the new unit.

Middle: A view of the new refrigerator and freezer.

Bottom: The new commercial stove installed in November and stainless steel work counters are visible in the renewed kitchen.

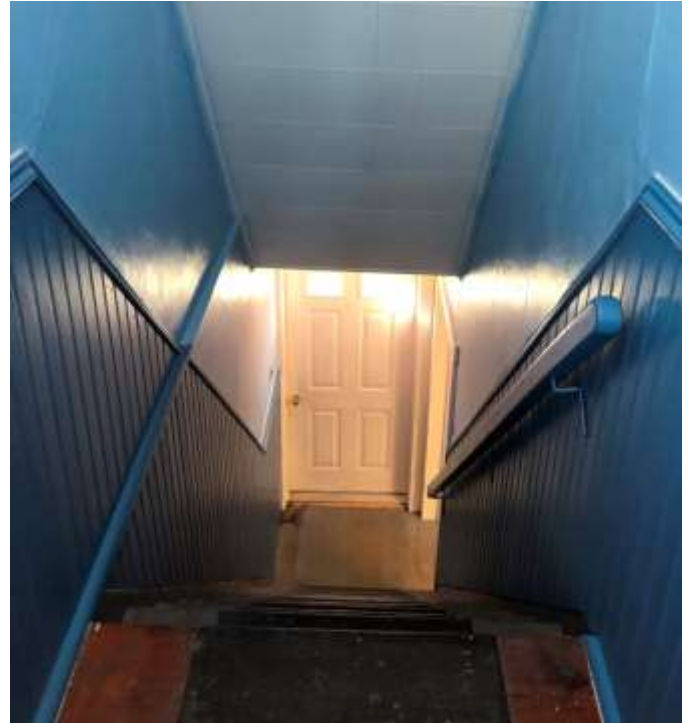

Then there was light.....

Another gift financed the majority of the cost to improve lighting in the first floor meeting hall/dining room. The existing fluorescent fixtures were upgraded with energy efficient LED units to provide more lighting at decreased operational costs. This work was done by Voneida Electric which last fall gave and installed new light fixtures in the kitchen.

- After receiving several estimates, it appears the cost to install “split” units for year round climate control in the Grange Hall – air conditioning and improved heating – will be $6,200. A pledged gift to cover half of this cost has been received. This gift along with available Grange funds should allow the project to commence soon.
- Secretary Jenn Nauss continues to research possible grants for which the Grange can apply. Grant monies could help finance two possible projects - building an outdoor pavilion and installation of a stair chairlift (see below).

Above is a shot of the recently painted stairwell leading to the second floor of the Grange Hall. That second floor is shown below before re-painting was begun mid-January. In the next newsletter you will see the finished refurbishment of this area.

More Improvements

- The outdoor lighted sign has arrived and will soon start to advertise Grange events from a prominent position on the Grange property near the intersection of Route 15 and East Blind Road. The interchangeable letters will allow the message to be updated as needed.
- We now have a good supply of hot water! Replacement of the electric water heater with a propane on-demand unit was considered, but president Troutman was able to refurbish and repair the current system with new thermostats.

Now we need to consider installing a chairlift on the stairs to make this space more accessible.

Don't Miss these.....
